

Alaska Academic Decathlon

Sponsorship Opportunities

The Alaska Academic Decathlon (AAD), an Alaskan non-profit organization, invites you to partner with us in sponsoring our State Academic Decathlon Championship to be held February 20-23, 2019 in Anchorage, Alaska.

Why is Alaska Academic Decathlon Important?

- Promotes and rewards academic achievement for high school students by emphasizing the value of academic excellence and personal self-worth for every participant, and fosters fair and challenging local and state team competitions each year in Alaska.
- Helps provide high school students from many remote parts of Alaska the opportunity to experience a high-quality state competition, achieve academic excellence, and the possibility to earn scholarships.
- One of the most rigorous and enriching programs of its kind, where students learn lifelong academic and interpersonal skills. Participants take tests in seven subjects – math, science, social science, economics, art, music, and literature – and learn how to deliver speeches, write essays, and undergo interviews. The emphasis throughout is on collaboration, communication, and critical thinking.
- A unique aspect of the program is students from all academic achievements compose the team: (3) A students, (3) B students, and (3) C students.
- Long standing program in our state since 1985 and continues to grow throughout Alaska.
- These students have worked hard for this opportunity, and their participation in the competition is a stepping stone for their future success. Please join us in giving our Alaskan youth the opportunity to succeed!
